March 2015 Chair's Message

February may have been a cold month but the meeting presentation by Mike Greene on Leveraging Synergy seemed to heat things up based on the responses we got from the post-meeting surveys. From the comments it seemed like there were many nuggets of value learned during the well delivered presentation.

I heard a quote the other day: "Quality is never an accident...it is always the result of intelligent effort." I witnessed this first-hand while attending a mega-sized trade show in Orlando, Florida. Over 700 display booths, 100+ tour busses shuttling attendees, 20+ hotels, a million square feet of show space and coordinated meal services all provided amazingly well. This was the result of a massive amount of intelligent effort and planning as well as many, many choices.

Quality, regardless of whether it is good or bad, is the result of choices. At the March meeting, we will have the opportunity to hear Ron James presenting "Whose Choice is it?" Hope we see all of you there as we learn about a topic which has an obvious effect on life at work and outside of work.

Brian Davis, Chair ASQ Section 503
